Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1166902A2] The machine for cleaning of bottle crates has conveyor belts (9-11) defining a chamber (4) in which the crates are washed. There are guides (17,17A) for the crates as they pass along a cleaning path in a set direction (A). The guides have an adjusting or raising drive (18,26,27) to vary their spacing from the feed conveyor plane (TE) for discharge of the crates.
