Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19919719A1] The invention relates to a method and a device for subtitling video-camera recordings. According to the invention, subtitle information which has been inputted via a keyboard (2) is converted into video-text signals using a video-text generator (13) and inserted into the blanking intervals of the video recording. On the reproduction side, the recording can subsequently be played back with or without subtitles.
