Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1175844A1] The bracelet is made up of two rows (2, 4) of outer links and a row (6) of central links which are staggered by half the width of a link from those in the outer rows. Each central link (7) is connected to two links in each outer row (3, 5, 17, 18) by one threaded rod (19) and one rod (10) with sprung ends. Each rod is fitted into a bore across the total width of the central link and fits into bores in the outer links. An Independent claim is included for a method for assembling a bracelet as described above.
