Abstract (en)
A carrying device for children, which is also intended for use as an insert in a child's car seat, is designed with a carrying part (2) of a soft, heat-insulating/heat-absorbent material. The carrying part has a pliability which permits it to enfold the child's body in the carrying position. The carrying part (2) is further extended in the side areas (3, 4), which have to protect the child's hips and shoulder portion and furthermore has a pants-like portion (11) in the lower area together with a neck support (5) in the upper area. In the extended portions (3, 4) of the carrying part (2) a carrying strap (6) is attached on each side, preferably by attachment lugs (7). <IMAGE>
