Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1175884A2] The basin (10) contains granular stimulation material such as rape-seed in which the body part being treated is immersed. A flexible fabric, preferably untreated cotton bag is placed, open, in the basin, and leaves the basin's opening free (28). The bag has an edge strip gripping over the basin's rim (32) to which it is fixed. An arm-support (16) with rounded edge (20) forms the opening-rim and leads downwards smoothly from a horizontal support part (17) to the bottom (18) of the basin.
