Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1176262A1] The system has side elements (4), which can be fixed to a drain channel and extend away from it. Support elements are fixed to the side elements using quick clamp elements at one end and are fixed to a floor at the other end. The support elements have a support (15) that can be moved along and fixed to the side elements on one side and a vertical element (13) on the other side.
