Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1180760A1] The interchangeable frame(1,1A) has U-shaped profiled frame-parts (2-5) the open arms of which protrude into the interior of the frame. The object placed in the frame (15) is held by a locking element (21). The object is inserted into a corner (5,2) of the frame and then slid into the open arms where they are finally locked, or unlocked, by operating the locking element. The inner sides of two adjacent profiled frame parts are deeper than the other parts.
