Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0071433A1] The present invention provides a flexible storage bag (10) having an opening and a closure system (40) for the opening, wherein the closure system provides a high contrast color indication when complete closure of the closure system has been achieved. The closure system may be a mechanical interlocking seal or an adhesive-based closure system. The high contrast color indication may be a change from colorless to colored, from white to black, and/or from translucent to opaque.
