Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0074010A1] A coin-operated entertainment machine has a digital display device (16) and a monitoring device (19). Machine signals are monitored and an error indication is given if there are anomalous signals. The player of the machine is thereby made aware that a malfunction has occurred. In one embodiment, an error indication is given if a predetermined value, such as a maximum jackpot award, is exceeded. In another embodiment repeated machine signals are monitored and an indication is given if there is a departure from a norm indicating a machine crash or other malfunction.
