Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0074897A1] The invention relates to a jet spray tool (2) and to a device for treating, especially for cleaning, surfaces (1) using a CO₂ snow stream (5). According to the invention, the jet spray tool (2) comprises a first nozzle (49) for producing a CO₂ snow stream and has a second nozzle (51) for producing a support or pressure stream, whereby the second nozzle (51) surrounds the first nozzle (49) in a concentric manner, and whereby a supersonic stream of a pressure/support gas is produced by the second nozzle (51).
