Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1188895A2] The glazing (4) is held inside the window(1) or door frame (2 by means of strips (3). An inner covering (7) is positioned along the top arm of the frame (5) and comprises a head-rail (8) positioned between the glass-strips of the side frame-arms 6). A drive shaft (9) for the blind is mounted in the rail. The shaft is operated by a drive part (10). The drive side of the drive shaft has a guide duct (12) interrupting the adjacent glass strip and the adjoining side frame-arm so that the drive shaft and drive part are connected (13).
