Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1197456A1] A paper web (2) is sequentially printed by the digital printer (22) and is cut into full size sheets (3) having multiple printed pages. The full size sheets are folded, collected together and stitched. A buffer of the full size sheets is formed and the sheets from the buffer are individualized to control the processing sequence. An Independent claim is included for printed product producing device.
