Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1199431A1] A metal cupboard with stacked trays/separate compartments with individual door flaps has a simple construction with the outer support frame having a hollow outer edge with an inside slot to locate and hold tags. The tags form supports for the hinges of the door flaps and with a single vertical rod threaded through the tags and hinges to secure the doors. The tags have a waisted shape to slide in the slotted frame.
