Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0103538A1] The invention concerns an article for applying a topical composition comprising an upper layer (6) permeable to the topical composition, a lower layer (2) impermeable to the topical composition, the two layers being superposed edge to edge and maintained integral by a weld at their periphery, and at least a capsule (5) containing said topical composition. The invention also concerns a method for preparing such an article.
