Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0108776A1] A doll body supports a pair of arms (15, 16) and a pair of legs (18, 19) upon an upper body portion (12) and a lower body portion (17) respectively. The upper body supports an upper body armature (30) having a downwardly open socket (32). The lower body supports an upwardly extending ball (73) received within the socket (32) to provide a ball and socket joint between the upper and lower body portions. The body further includes a flexible soft midriff portion (20) having a realistic contour and texture which is molded upon the upper body armature and lower body armature (70) to encapsulate the ball and socket joint and provide a continuous flexible body portion between the upper and lower bodies. The molded midriff portion (20) is formed in a realistic contour and texture to facilitate dressing the doll in bare midriff fashions.
