Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1205141A2] An electric suction and collection household appliance for waste of small and medium size is disclosed, comprising a body (2) inside assembling suction and filtering means, wherein said suction means are operatively associated to at least an outer suction inlet (5) generally arranged flush with the bottom base of said body (2). Preferably the household appliance is also provided with an upper container to collect and contain other waste that cannot be sucked or of bigger size, said upper container (21) being removable so as to empty it without carrying the whole device. <IMAGE>
