Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1207127A2] The cutting device has a work plate (1, 2) and a cylindrical receiver (7). There is a gap (24) for the knife spaced out from the output slit (8). Guides (11, 19') project beyond the top and bottom sides to delineate the gap. The second guide (19') can be lifted from the work plate, which has side guides to limit the position of the insulation strip.
