Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1209521A1] The invention concerns an apparatus for introducing photographic pictures and film strips, and in particular index prints (25), into a job pouch (12) that has a picture pocket (22) and a film-strip pocket (32), and comprises a conveying device (100) for the pictures, for the film strips, and for the index print (25), and a support plate (30) for the job pouch (12) that is to be loaded. The conveying device (100) for the index print (25) is movable from a horizontal starting position in order to receive the index print (25), into a vertical position, holding the job pouch (12) on the support plate (30), in order to deliver the index print (25) into the picture pocket (22); and the upper side (21) of the job pouch (12) forming the picture pocket (22) can be acted upon by a flow of compressed air. <IMAGE>
