Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1211789A2] A case (2) has a spherical main area (3) and a front part (4) set in a mounting device in front of the main area. The front part has a smaller width than the main area, is flatter than the main area and has ventilation slots (6). Input (7) and output (8) mains power supply connector cables each insert one of their ends into the front part and each link their other end to connector elements.
