Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2798568A1] The invention concerns a foldable frame comprising two posts each consisting of two elements (1, 2), one of the two elements being foldable on the other. An assembling piece (3) links the two posts and at least a horizontal bar (6, 7), and locks them together. A parasol (32) is mounted on the upper element (1) of a post via an extension arm (33) and an assembling and linking piece (34). Moreover a plate (49) can be mounted pivoting on another post. The invention is useful as a hammock support.
