Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2819162A1] The divan has a monobloc fitting (1) having an upper section (2) which comprises a housing (3a,3b) for receiving the end of a lath. A lower section (4) has fitting anchoring means (5a,5b) on the divan frame. An intermediate section (6) connects the upper and lower sections and constitutes the elastic suspension. The housing is delimited by a vertical back (15) and a deformable peripheral wall (16). This wall has on its upper surface a transverse cut-out (17) for the introduction of a lath end into the housing by sliding it in an oblique direction.
