Abstract (en)

A control unit for actuating multibar Raschel looms, comprising a central controller (1) in which the data related to a design to be provided are entered. The controller drives a plurality of actuation motors (2). Each motor is connected to a respective actuation bar (3) of a Raschel loom by interposing translational motion means (10) for converting the motion that arrives from the corresponding motor (2) into a translational motion of the respective bar (3). <IMAGE>
