Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0051699A1] A racing car game which allows competitors to drive model racing cars on a flat track surface via control consoles. The ability to steer the racing cars on any part of the track as well as control speed and direction (forward/reverse) via steering wheel on console, with very short reaction time, gives the user a "Total racing car feel". The game is mains powered (no batteries needed) and therefore gives total unlimited playing time. The track is composed of sections allowing different geometric shapes to be designed.
