Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19949833A1] The component has a depression to contain a light holder (10) and a universal holder (3) for insertion in a wall or to fit on a wall or support element of a building. The depression is at least partly covered with a screen, which completely covers the light, the universal holder and an integrated electronic element (4). The uncovered part of the depression is limited by an inner wall (1) opposite the light holder and the universal holder.
