Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1225137A1] The system for operating a refuse collection container (2), for use only by authorised users, comprise a registration point (7) where user details are read from a card and details of the refuse to be disposed of are registered on the user's account. Details of the transaction and remaining capacity of the container are transmitted to a separate database (5). An Independent claim is included for a method using the system.
