Abstract (en)
The arrangement includes a mounting arrangement for arranging an especially large format display unit at a carrier structure in a display area, at least partially outside an operation area of an operating person. An adjustable positioning arrangement (17) is provided for moving the display unit (12) in the operating area (15), and respectively in the display area (14). The positioning arrangement comprises preferably at least one supporting element (18) adjustable from the operation area, which engages with a first end of the display unit.
