Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0133369A1] Machine readable documents connect business with customers (101), suppliers (103) and trading partners (102). To connect entities across marketplaces (102) to which they subscribe, there must be an interface (104) for defining documents. The present invention includes an extensible interface (104) for common definitions and vocabulary to allows marketplaces (102) to reveal their trading documents to others according to a commonly understood and marketplace independent definition.
