Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1231339A2] Device (1) for processing plate-like components on scaffolding, especially for one-sided application of coatings and adhesive on insulating plates, comprises a bearing surface for holding at least one component and a container (23) for a coating composition, especially an adhesive, preferably an adhesive mortar. The bearing surface and the container are ergonomically arranged on a support frame (3) placed on a base (11) of the scaffolding so that the vessel and the bearing surface are adjacent to each other in the same processing plane. Preferred Features: The support frame consists of two frames (5, 6) connected in a scissor-like configuration. The frames are preferably rectangular tubes having holders (20, 25) at their upper end for the bearing surface and the container and positioning elements (12) at their lower end.
