Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1231679A1] At least one contact is provided in the socket housing. The contact consists of a holding part and a socket (18). The socket is attached to the holding part so that it can swivel about a limited angle. The holding part includes a head section (20), a ring groove (22) adjoining the head section, and a collar (24) adjoining the ring groove. The socket (18) has spring plates (38) which engage with the ring groove. An Independent claim is included for a plug part.
