Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1243213A2] Shower separating wall comprises a holding profile (2) and an inner space (6) closed by a screen profile (4) in which a water line (8) is arranged for connection to a fitting. A rigidly fixed wall element (20) is connected to the holding profile and a tilting door profile is provided. The holding profile has a first partition (16) and a second partition (17) between which the inner space for the water line is arranged. A free space (24) is provided on the outside of the second partition in which a hinge profile (26) for the tilting door is arranged.
