Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1245515A1] The winding device comprises a support (1) for a reel (B) in the process of formation and a rotation system (3) for rotating the reel in the process of formation which winds up the weblike material (N) onto the reel. A tensioning member (61) is also provided in contact with the outer surface of the reel in the process of formation, whose peripheral speed is controlled so as to be able to exceed the winding-up speed.
