Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0152200A1] A system for multistage information vending in a fuelling environment comprises a plurality of retail terminals (44, 46, 48, 51) each equipped with a transmission mechanism. A consumer may purchase data or information at a first retail terminal (40), such as during a fuelling transaction, and then receive the data from a second retail terminal (51).
