Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0167400A2] Document evaluation apparatus for evaluating value documents. The apparatus comprises an input hopper (2); at least one output hopper (105); a transport system (5, 15, 19) for conveying documents singly from the input hopper (2) to the or one of the output hoppers (105); and an evaluation device (400) for monitoring the denomination of documents being transported. The evaluation device (400), a) increments a first count if the evaluation device recognises the denomination of a document, b) provides an indication of the operator if the evaluation device does not recognise the denomination of a document, the operator being able to increment a second count with the value of the unrecognised document, and c) following evaluation of a number of documents, sums the first and second counts and displays the result.
