Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0170235A1] The invention concerns a dermatological composition. Said dermatological composition, capable of being topically applied, comprises in combination at least a beta-hydroxy-acid such as salicylic acid, or one of its acceptable salts and esters, and at least a sphingolipid or a sphingolipid precursor, for example sphingosine and phytosphingosine. The invention is applicable to dermatological compositions for skin treatment and care, in particular for treating acne.
