Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0138056A1] The method for modifying of massive wood is comparatively easy way to overcome the warp of the massive wood. On cutting of a layer of the massive wood the inner tensions in the wood are released. Having filled with a polymer a layer of a polymer and wooden prisms is obtained which already does not possess the previous inner tensions and does not allow to the wood, processed in this way, to warp.
