Abstract (en)

[origin: DE10009978A1] The arrangement has protrusions (25,30) that engage behind an opening in the vehicle body (10) for introducing the device on the side of the vehicle body remote from the antenna (5). The protrusions are arranged so that the device can be introduced in a defined position relative to the opening with the protrusions in the opening and the protrusions engage behind the opening by turning the device.
