Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1270816A1] The concrete cobblestone (21) has flat and parallel upper (12) and lower sides, with rounded and vertical side edges (19). A ribbon-shaped side surface (18) is around the cobblestone, composed of part side surfaces (14-17). At the rounded corners (22a-22d), the side surface is defined by two curves (26,27,30,31) against each other, with a radius (R) which reduces towards the opposing curve continuously, or in small steps. They transit into each other at a continuous contact point (P6,P9).
