Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1270855A1] The junction comprises a slide (19) mounted longitudinally in the rear of a junction plate (20) for the faceplate. It comprises at each of its ends (21,22) coupling means (25) able to engage with the end of two operating rods. The junction plate is telescopic at one of its ends (24) in order to extend, after coupling the rods, above the end of the faceplates covering the rods.
