Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0177590A1] Solar collector (1) comprising: a first plate (2) for collecting solar energy, a second plate (3) wherein there is an intermediate space between the two plates, and a quantity of liquid which is present between the plates (2,3) for absorbing the energy collected by the first plate (2). A framework (4,7) for fixing the plates (2,3) at a mutual distance along the edges thereof so as to seal the space between the plates (2,3) and to create space between the plates which comprises the liquid.
