Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0173234A1] The present invention provides a frame for forming a structure including a house or shed or for mounting one or more objects to a structure such as a house or a shed. The frame comprises at least two first elongated members (168, 170) and first attachment means adapted to pivotably attach at least two of the first elongated members (168, 170) together. The present invention also provides a frame assembly comprising a plurality of said frame.
