Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0182322A1] An actuating element for an electric switch, especially for a steering wheel switch in a motor vehicle, impinges upon at least one switching contact (29) and is pivotally mounted on a housing (2) of said switch. A film hinge (7) is provided as a bearing, connecting the actuating element (6) to a latched wall (8). The wall (8) runs parallel to the wall of the housing (15) or replaces the wall of the housing.
