Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0185548A1] The invention relates to a printing device, for the printing of removable labels on a support strip (2a,2b,2c), in particular goods labels, with at least one label feed device, comprising at least one stripping head (6a,6b,6c) and at least one printer (1) with at least one printing head for printing the label. Differing types of label may be printed in a continuous labelling process, whereby at least one transport device (5,8,9) is provided, which transports the labels, removed at the at least one stripping head, to the at least one printer.
