Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1288130A2] Label magazine (1), in particular for labelling machines, of the type comprising a plurality of loaders (2) positioned side by side on a support structure associated to the magazine (1), means (6) for moving the loaders (2) towards a labelling station and means (3) for allowing an automatic alignment of the loaders (2) relative to said labelling station. Said means (3) for allowing automatic alignment are originally shaped in such a way as to align each individual loader (2) independently from the remaining loaders present on said support structure. In particular, said means (3) comprise at least a guide (4) whereon are sliding engaged the loaders (2) to be aligned. <IMAGE>
