Abstract (en)
[origin: WO0195757A1] The invention concerns a depilatory apparatus comprising a housing (1), an electric motor (2) powering a depilatory head including plucking members, each plucking member comprising at least a mobile blade (11) actuated by mechanical means to close and open the plucking members. Said mechanical means comprise at least a flange (40) of the first control means (400), acting as a cam on the second means actuating the mobile part of the depilatory head along a direction substantially parallel to the flanges. The surface of the cams is perpendicular to the flanges (40, 41) and the second actuating means include a crank assembly (15) transforming the displacement parallel to the flanges into a movement of the lips of the mobile blades (11) substantially perpendicular to the flanges.
