Abstract (en)
A removable modular support for pavements comprises a base (1) having a reticular or alveolar structure (2) provided with complementary hooking male/female peripheral means (3,4), a plurality of lower spacing feet (11) and load distribution strips (12). Said modular supports can be restrained into each other in multiple plane assemblies, for an easy and rapid formation of water- and humidity-draining removable pavements to be applied also on not perfectly flat bottoms. <IMAGE>
