Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1308565A2] The shower has main body (1) with connections for cold and/or warm water, and a volume and/or temperature control (8,9). One or more additional accessory bodies (10) with water jets (12) are connected to the main body via a connection arm (14). Both bodies are column-shaped, and the additional body is shorter than the main body. The shower head (2) is connected to the main body via a flexible hose, and the water jets on the accessory bodies are esp. massage jets. The main body has a cold mist jet at the top, and a foot massage jet at the bottom.
