Abstract (en)
A magazine (2) of cardboard box blanks inferiorly exhibits an end from which a gripping device (3) removes blanks one by one and releases them in a transfer zone (4). The end is arranged obliquely with an inclination facing a box forming line (5) predisposed to carry the blanks, once opened out into boxes, one by one in an advancement direction. The transfer device comprises a rotating carousel which bears two gripping organs, constituted by suckers and also rotating although in an opposite direction to and faster than the rotating carousel. The machine is longitudinally notably short.
