Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1318496A1] The label holder consists of rear (1) and front (2) sections connected by a supple hinge (3) that allows the angle of the front section to be adjusted. The label holder's front section can be set vertically by a trough section stop (12). An angled support inserted in the stop sets the front section so it is angled upwards, while the removal of the stop by cutting or breaking at a point of reduced resistance (13) allows the front section of the label holder to be set so it is angled downwards.
