Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1319351A2] Applicator assembly consists of an applicator of an elastically compressible material surrounding all or part of a cosmetic product in stick form, mounted on a mobile and spring-loaded carrier. In the absence of any pressure on the applicator the cosmetic stick is located beneath its surface, while a pressure applied to the carrier causes the stick to project through the applicator. Applicator assembly (1) consists of an applicator (7) of an elastically compressible material surrounding all or part of a cosmetic product (31) in stick form, mounted on a mobile and spring-loaded carrier (32). In the absence of any pressure on the applicator the cosmetic stick is located beneath its surface (9), while a pressure applied to the underside of the carrier causes the stick to project through the applicator so it can be applied directly to a surface.
