Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1319599A1] The filling machine has at least one closing element (17,18) installed in the lower region of the filling connector (10) and which by means of a controllable actuator (19,20) is brought into a position opening and closing the flow passage opening of the filling connector. At least the section of the filling connector encased by the seated bag is pivotable around a hanging position inclined in relation to the vertical. The closing element consists of two flaps which are hinged around horizontal, parallel and relatively spaced apart hinge points (15,16).
